

Fruit Growers Attention.

We call the attention of all fruit growers and dealers to the provision of the Horticultural Law which bars from the markets of Utah fruit infected with any scale insect or any fruit showing evidence of the work of the larvae of the Codling Moth: Unlawful to Sell or Offer For Sale Diseased Fruits.

Section 14.—It shall be unlawful to sell or dispose of, or offer to sell or dispose of, or to have in one's possession for sale or barter, any fruit which is or has been infected with San Jose scale, or other scale insects, or the larvae of the codling moth; and the fact that such fruit bears the mark of any scale, or is worm eaten by the larvae of the codling moth shall be deemed conclusive evidence that said fruit is infected within the meaning of this section; and the state and county inspector and the deputies are hereby given power to seize and destroy such infected fruit whenever they shall find that the same has been packed, sold, shipped or offered for sale, or where the same has been exposed for sale, or being held in any warehouse, store, saleroom or other place for the purpose of being sold, bartered, shipped or exposed for sale or bartered; and it is hereby made the duty of said state inspector and said county inspector and deputies to enforce the provisions of this section, and any person who shall violate the provisions of this section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor; provided, however, that any qualified inspector or deputy shall immediately, upon being notified, inspect any shipment of fruits, and issue certificate of release or inspection. Provided further, that nothing in this section shall be construed to prevent the utilization of such infected fruit in the manufacture of fruit by products where said fruit has not been packed, sold, shipped, stored or offered or exposed for sale as fruit.

We believe this provision is entirely consistent with the best interests of Utah horticulture and considerable loss and inconvenience to both growers and dealers may be avoided by observing the law.
